

Weekends at 6am and 9am ET

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA

words & music by Tim Burns

If your boat should start to sink
It's not as bad as you may think
There's so much that's going on down deep below

So leave the world above behind
You'll be amazed at what you will find
A million underwater creatures want to say a 'hello'

So You can horse around with a sea horse
Make friends with your anemones
There's a lot that you can see at the bottom of the sea
Yes there's a lot that you can see at the bottom of the sea

Well you can rock with a lobster, clap like a clam, (wow)
Hang out with the jellyfish and jam,
Or spread your arms like a starfish in the sand
(Here I go!)

Join the fish in school, you don't need books
They just learn how to watch out for fishing hooks,
And shake, shake, shake, shake, shake shake shake shake an octopus's hand,
Oh Yea! Oh it's grand...

So You can horse around with a sea horse
Make friends with your anemones
There's a lot that you can see at the bottom of the sea (Oh Look)
Yes there's a lot that you can see at the bottom of the sea (Over There)
Yes there's a lot that you can see at the bottom of the sea